CORRECT TOP COAT MODELS PRACTICALLY HAND TAILORED

Which really means as near hand made as it is possible to obtain ready-to-wear. These Covert Top Coats are just this near hand tailored. The collar, lapels and button-holes are hand done & the shoulders hand put in, and outside of these parts, there's little hand work really necessary in building a

GARMENT UNLESS BEING BUILT TO ORDER.

The coverts we here refer to, are in three grades, and the shades are light and medium, tan or olive. Priced $20, $25, and $30. The $30 coat we can praise without any fear of overdoing it. Being of very fine covert, full silk lined, best grade of trimmings all through and made in manner described above. We think it merits flattery.

At $25 this covert certainly outshines the majority of similar priced ones, a darker shade than the $30 one, but good quality and all silk lined, principally hand built & fits without a flaw—you'll say so.

If $20 is what you want to spend for a top coat, spend it for one of these. All wool tan covert, well tailored, same model as the better ones, serge lined, silk sleeve lining; you judge the fit. You can get the same thing in cities for $25.

The music of "bob-white," so enchanting to lovers of field sport, emanating from the vicinity of the court house attracted to the scene a number of citizens who discovered that a covey of the quail family had appropriated the lawn for their present quarters, says the Springfield S-J. Jailor Catlett, in a spirit of friendliness procured a copy of the Kentucky statutes and made the usurers acquainted with the provisions pertaining to the bird law and admonished them to "hike to the tall timbers" before they were reduced to fit subjects for "quail on toast."

Mr. John Slack, while fishing for muskies recently, was so fortunate as to find a drop pearl which weighed forty karats. He sold it for $250, and but for a natural flaw, a crack across the pearl, from its large size it would have been worth $700. Clarence Simpson found two pearls the same day. The large one brought $13.25, and a very small one $10.—Elizabethtown News.

Lexington, Ky Oct. 30 When the body of Mrs. Margaret Brisby, who was buried in 1856 in the old Lutheran cemetery, was disinterred for removal to the Lexington cemetery today it was found that the features of the dead woman were still recognizable and that the white lace cap on the head of the corpse was perfectly preserved and was as neat and fresh in appearance as it was when placed in the coffin more than fifty years ago. The remarkable preservation is attributed to the protection of the metallic casket, which was hermetically sealed. The iron headpiece was drawn back after the disinterment and a number of the relatives looked at the marble like face of their long dead kinswoman.

William Langley, brother of Congressman John W. Langley, arrived here today to begin an official inspection of the records of the local courts. Mr. Langley is a special agent representing the Criminal Judicial Statistics Department of the Bureau of Commerce and Labor, at Washington, and is securing statistics to be used in compiling Government reports of crime in Kentucky. Mr. Langley is the course of his work will visit the principal cities of the State.

"United States" ready mixed paint is equal to the best made. In fact, it is privately guaranteed to us by the manufacturers to be identically the same that they sell under a well known brand at a fancy price. By using the brand "United States" instead of the brand under which the leading manufacturers have made a big reputation we are allowed to sell the paint somewhat cheaper. We have a full line. We also carry the Paragon, an excellent paint.
